

LOH WEI-YANG Manager

MR LOH WEI-YANG is a manager with Autism Resource Centre (ARC) and currently works in the Employability and Employment Centre (E2C).

He graduated from the University of Queensland, Australia with a degree - Bachelor of Arts (Psychology).

Mr Loh has had extensive experience working directly with individuals with an Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) and their families on a daily basis as an autism therapist. His responsibilities included writing and conducting therapy programmes and holiday enrichment programmes for individuals with ASD, including emotions management, perspective taking, group work skills, study skills, conversational skills and managing puberty concerns.

In his current scope of work in the Employability and Employment Centre (E2C), Mr Loh is instrumental in training and coaching youths and adults with autism to prepare them for employment as well as training job coaches. He is a key leader in the setting up of E2C.

Since joining ARC, Mr Loh has been involved in training for parents, teachers, professionals and volunteers to en-skill them in their support and care of individuals with ASD.